Greenbelt, Bowie, College Park Oppose State Regulations on Juvenile Services

by Diane Oberg

The dispute between state and city juvenile service agencies, the establishment of a new recycling committee and a request for an emergency phone system at the Lake Park were the major subjects of the October 15 regular meeting of the Greenbelt City Council. At the request of Councilmember Edward Putens, council also directed city staff to investigate the nondelivery of mail to Greenspring residents.

City Manager James K. Giese provided an update on the funding battle between Greenbelt CARES, the city's juvenile services bureau and the Maryland Department of Juvenile Services (DJS). College Park and Bowie are engaged in a similar dispute with DJS, which is demanding that the cities provide the state agency with the names, along with other information, of their juvenile clients. Giese said that DJS contends that the city does not need clients' permission to release the names to the state. If the city insists on obtaining client permission, DJS has advised the city it should not serve clients who refuse to permit release of their names. CARES officials feel that a significant proportion of their clients will not permit release of their names.

Giese advised council that the Secretary of DJS has refused to meet with him. Further, DJS officials are refusing to meet jointly with Greenbelt, College Park and Bowie officials. Officials of the three cities met earlier that day with Senator Leo Green, Delegates Joan Pitkin and Charles "Buzz" Ryan and other legislators. Green and another senator agreed to attempt to set up the desired meeting between the three cities and the Secretary of DJS. Giese said that the long-term solution may be to develop a system permitting a blind match between city and DJS records, providing the information DJS needs without violating client confidentiality.

Delegate Charles Ryan has advised the city that given the likelihood of significant future funding cuts in the DJS budget, if that agency failed to provide funds for the three cities in its budget, legislators would be unable to add those funds. Facing this reality, Giese concluded that the dispute must be resolved through negotiation, rather than through legal action. The city has sent a proposed amended contract to DJS, which has acknowledged receipt but has neither accepted or rejected the contract itself.

Buddy Attick Park

Council dealt with two park-related issues. The owner of the concession stand, Duane Bowman, has decided to sell the business. Under the lease agreement, council has the right of first refusal. Council accordingly refused, directing staff to notify Bowman that the city has no interest in purchasing the stand and equipment and permitting him to seek a buyer, subject to approval by council of the specific buyer.

Georgine Small asked council to consider installing emergency phones at Attick Park. She said she recently witnessed an incident exposure at the park. The man followed her as she attempted to leave the lake and was scared off only when Small was spotted and called to by a friend. She said that the experience made her realize how far people at the lake have to go to summon police or emergency rescue assistance.

Leonie Penney asked council to increase the police presence at the lake, particularly the relatively isolated area between the dam and Lakeside Drive.

Staff will investigate the requests and report back to council.

Legislation

Council gave final approval to the Capital Projects Fund budget, which accounts for projects such as the reconstruction of Centerway; the acquisition of the Steiner property for Schrom Hills Park; renovations to the Youth Center; Public Works facility and Municipal building, as well as street and recreation facility construction.

Council also gave final approval to legislation establishing a nine-person recycling committee. Leonie Penney argued that the resolution should be more specific, incorporating more of the program details developed by the ad hoc committee on recycling. She also pressed for language requiring the membership to accurately reflect the city, both geographically and by type of residence (private ownership, both receiving and not receiving city trash collection; townhouses, condominium apartments, commercially owned apartments and businesses). She argued that all of these constituencies have different needs and perspectives. Council member Antoinette M. Bram agreed but received no support for her request that a requirement for geographic balance be added to the resolution. She also argued, again without council support, for a more specific charge to the committee.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld noted that council's normal procedure is to try for such balance, but not to include it as an absolute legal requirement. He noted that such a requirement could prevent the city from appointing a highly qualified individual from an area already represented on the committee. Putens noted that such a requirement could delay filling the committee if no one applied from an area designated for representation.

Council member Joseph Isaacs argued that getting the committee established should take precedent over spelling out each item that it should consider. The resolution passed unanimously, with Mayor pro tem Thomas X. White absent.

RENOVATIONS, NEW RESTAURANT PLANNED FOR ROOSEVELT CENTER

by Virginia Beauchamp

Prospects for the renovation of the Roosevelt Center — currently a morass of mud and debris — are looking better and better. That was the good news brought to the Greenbelt City Council at a work session on October 10 by George Christacos, owner of the commercial buildings in the Center.

Christacos said that he expected "within two weeks" to have signed lease agreements for the two vacant spaces—the theater and the adjacent corner where the High's store used to be. Despite the failure to get approval from the county for a liquor license, the Liu family, who were planning to open a Chinese restaurant on the corner site, have decided to go ahead. According to the agreement, Christacos said, he will lease the property at a lower monthly rate than would have been the case if the proprietors had been able to offer sales of alcoholic beverages.

Christacos estimated that getting the restaurant into working order would take about 90 days. Such a family-oriented restaurant will be "a big plus in the area," Christacos commented.

Speaking of the other long-vacant property, the theater, Christacos said that it will go into business as a "real theater." Someone who already operates two movie houses at a 99-cent ticket rate, one in the District and one in Bethesda, has decided to open a similar facility here. He plans a 600-seat operation.

Another Store?

In the meantime, as part of the upgrading of the property, Christacos has been having asbestos removed in the basement area under the High's store. This move is required before he would be able to secure a bank loan for further improvements in the Center. In particular he wants to fill in the corner between the beauty parlor and the entrance to the basement shoe repair shop, which he said fills with windblown debris and looks unsightly. Council members assented to that characterization of the area in question.

Christacos indicated that he would like to build a ground-level space, for which his preferred use would be to bring the shoe repairman up to the street. He indicated that the basement facility was substandard and water-damaged. The shoe repairman had said that he would like to sell certain lines of sports shoes as well and to develop a more attractive place.

The front facade of the new shop would continue the front line of the rest of the shops and would be in design harmony, subject to approval of historic preservation officials, since the rest of the Center has been designated an historic site. The east wall would continue the east wall of the theater. An exit corridor would have to be created in the northeast segment of this new store in order to meet fire code requirements for the theater exit.

Council members raised a question about the impact of this new commercial space on available parking. On this issue, City Manager James Giese commented that the city's Director of Planning, Celia Wilson, advises that Christacos and Domino's must be treated consistently—either to approve or deny. Domino's has requested a waiver of county parking restrictions in order to operate a pizza carry-out (as well as the current delivery service). Giese indicated that between 6 and 8 p.m. there might be something of a "parking crunch."

For the new construction Christacos envisions, seven parking spaces would be required (under the understanding that the current basement shoe repair shop would be closed).

Council expressed interest in the proposal and indicated it would be placed on the agenda for the November 13 regular city council meeting.

Public Officials to Meet On Road Project Plans

On Monday, October 29 Maryland's Transportation Secretary Richard H. Trainor and State Highway Administrator Hal Kassoff will meet with state and local officials at 10 a.m. in the State Highway Administration Auditorium, 9300 Kenilworth Avenue, Greenbelt. Trainor will discuss the 1991 State Report on Transportation, which includes the proposed Consolidated Transportation Program for Fiscal Years 1991-1996. Kassoff will discuss the status of all highway projects in the county.

"These meetings provide an excellent opportunity to exchange information with the elected officials and to fine-tune our program while our transportation plan is still in draft form," said Trainor.

During the Prince Georges County meeting, department officials will focus on the upgrade of US 50 (I-595) from the Capital Beltway to Anne Arundel County; interchanges on Md. 5 at Md. 223, Allentown Road and Manchester Drive; widening of Md. 210, Indian Head Highway; construction of the Inter-county Connector; and upgrade of Md. 214, Central Avenue.

When the county meetings conclude, the transportation department's plans and programs will be finalized and presented to the Governor for his review and approval and then to the 1991 General Assembly in January.

Learn About Flower Bulbs

James McKenney of the Potomac Lily Society and Bulb expert will take an in-depth look at the myriad of smaller, lesser known bulbs which are grown for spring or fall display.

The free lecture will be on Thursday, November 1 at 10:30 a.m. in the National Arboretum Administration Building.

Mail Sorting Automated

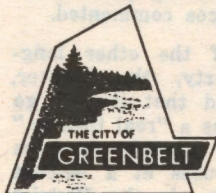

Every address in the city will receive a guide next week on how to get the best possible service from the new automated Postal Service. Postmaster Franklin D. Ford calls it the biggest-ever mailing by the Postal Service to inform and educate its customers.

Ford says increased customer cooperation in addressing mail is needed because the Postal Service is changing the way it processes mail. "Right now, 52 percent of all letter mail processed here is sorted on automated scanning equipment," said Ford. By 1995 all such mail will be sorted automatically.

The Southern Maryland General Mail Facility, Capitol Heights, uses four optical character scanners to sort mail and expects to add three more during the next year.

Rotary Inducts New Members

The Rotary Club of Greenbelt announced that Alexander Moore and Dwayne Purper were inducted into membership recently at the Club's weekly breakfast meeting held every Thursday morning at the Greenbelt Marriott.

OFFICIAL NOTICE Recycling Advisory Committee

The City Council is seeking applications for the recently established Recycling Advisory Committee. This committee will consider and advise the City Council on matters relating to the recycling of refuse and matters related thereto, including but not limited to

- Reviewing the existing recycling program;
- Assisting in educating Greenbelt citizens and businesses about recycling and source reduction;
- Expanding the program to include ALL AREAS of the city;
- Recommending modifications to the recycling program and refuse collection program, as appropriate, to maximize the recycling of materials and to minimize the amount of waste disposal by land fill.

REFUSE DISPOSAL AND RECYCLING ARE MATTERS AFFECTING EVERY CITIZEN, and it is, therefore, important that this committee include representatives from ALL AREAS of the city, including those not presently receiving city refuse service. Business contributes greatly to our waste stream and should play a role in addressing this issue, as well. The city is, therefore, welcoming and urging indications of interest from our neighbors in the business community.

Nov. 6 Election Nears

In the November 6 general election, 8,533 Greenbelters will be eligible to vote (see chart). Of the 108 new registrants since the September primary, 82 are Democrats, 17 Republican and nine unaffiliated.

Together, Greenbelt's four precincts now have 5,112 Democrats, 2,267 Republicans and 1,154 unaffiliated voters with Democrats outnumbering Republicans 2.25 to 1. In the county Democrats hold a 3.2-1 lead, versus their 1.86-1 lead in the city's state legislative district, 1.7 to 1 in the councilmanic district and 3 to 1 in the city's congressional district.

It is projected that the state's final tally will show Democrats outnumbering Republicans by about 2.19 to 1, a considerable decline over 1980's 3 to 1 ratio.

City and Berwyn Heights Discuss Buffer Transfer

by Sandra Smith

The transfer of two buffer areas along Kenilworth Avenue now within the city limits of Greenbelt to the Town of Berwyn Heights was discussed at a work session of the Greenbelt City Council and officials of Berwyn Heights, on Sept. 25.

Berwyn Heights officials described the area which lies between their town and the highway as non-revenue-producing and requested the transfer to allow the town to better maintain and control the use of the land. Council was generally favorable but members had a number of questions. They asked city staff to research the issue further and agreed that it would be covered at a future council meeting.

Council member Antoinette M. (Toni) Bram wanted assurances that the area would remain green. Berwyn Heights agreed to actively pursue keeping the area green and indicated a plan to plant additional trees, partially in an effort to better buffer the highway noise. Mayor Gil Weidenfeld raised issues of access by the police, since Kenilworth Avenue is patrolled by Greenbelt Police who respond to accidents on the highway. There were comparisons to Greenbelt Road for which Greenbelt Police now have partial responsibility and Mayor Pro Tem Thomas X. White raised questions on the long-term planning for Greenbelt Road.

Options

Weidenfeld outlined a number of possible actions regarding the transfer of the highway buffer areas. These included: (1) retain buffer areas within Greenbelt, (2) transfer to Berwyn Heights, (3) give the buffer to Berwyn Heights but include a provision to handle highway expansion if constructed, (4) restrict Greenbelt's responsibilities to the middle of Kenilworth Avenue as it is now for Greenbelt Road. White suggested another possibility would be to better define responsibilities for the buffer areas and to enter into a covenant to manage. Assistant City Manager Michael McLaughlin outlined another possible action which would move Kenilworth Avenue out of the City of Greenbelt and make it an unincorporated area under the responsibility of the County Police.

Berwyn Heights agreed to discuss plans for Kenilworth Avenue with the State Highway Administration and agreed to cover the costs of surveys or legal costs involved in the transfer. Berwyn Heights had originally requested the conveyance of the buffer strips in late 1988. That request had been deferred, pending the resolution of zoning matters. The topic will be on the agenda of both the Greenbelt City Council and Berwyn Heights Council in the near future.

Earth Day Show to Air

by Doug Love

After months of editing, the Greenbelt Earth Day 1990 program will be shown on Prince Georges Television Cable channel B15 at 7 p.m. Monday, October 29.

"There was so much scheduled on Earth Day, we needed two camera crews to cover everything. With just one crew, we missed some of the best displays, and the final hands-around-the-lake, although we really tried to be everywhere. Our biggest mistake was setting up the cameras to shoot towards Lakeside, mistaking it for the upper end of the lake. Friends of Miss Greenbelt 1989 had a good laugh as we vainly tried to hang an electrical extension cord in a tree over the parade route, just as the parade was approaching. Other foulups were discovered later, when it was found that many of the most important interviews had no audio. A partial solution was to use some of these pictures in a video montage at the beginning of the program. Video hosts Konrad Herling and Marsha Barret learned a few things about appearing on camera that discriminating viewers will discover for themselves. We selected the best 30 minutes of over 2 hours of videotape, along with some surprises edited in wherever the camera was out of focus.

We all learned a lot. What I was told in class about hooking up the cameras was not necessarily so, but a call to Greenbelt City TV Coordinator Beverly Palau saved the day. As it was, I was constantly taping wires back onto the camera between shots. The videotape editing went slowly, as there were dozens of segments that had to be placed in a predetermined order. One scrambled interview was put in logical order in a 2 hour editing session. The entire interview lasts less than a minute, but makes sense. Some of the most spectacular shots were of the Sufi Dancers in the Center School Gym. A few minutes of their entrancing music and movements are shown. Unfortunately, the Tai Chi and nature bikes were not taped.

The spectacular finale was made in the studio with a NASA photo of the earth. The new Greenbelt Access Television (GATE) video logo, starring board member Eunice Coxon at her garden gate, may be seen at the end of the program if PGTV runs the entire tape.

By the time the editing was under way, we had learned much in classes at Prince Georges Community College that we used in placing insets of the Great North Woods next to the Mayor's declaration of Earth Day. The contrast between the CFG map and the drizzly ceremony is as extreme as the bright messages of a better world through recycling seen against the gloomy condition of our environment today. Perhaps it is fitting that the video of Earth Day improved as it went along, and everyone involved is better

Flu, Pneumonia Vaccines Available at Green Ridge

The Division of Immunization of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH) is urging older adults and people of any age with chronic health problems to be immunized against pneumococcal pneumonia and against influenza, specifically Type A-Taiwan, Type A-Shanghai, and Type B-Yamagata influenza. It is also recommended that health-care workers and those who care for the elderly and for those with chronic medical conditions get the influenza vaccine.

"Most people only need one shot of pneumococcal vaccine," said Diane Dwyer, M.D., Chief of the DHMH Center for Clinical Epidemiology. "If you had a shot within the last 5 years, you probably don't need another one. If it has been 6 years or more since you had a pneumococcal vaccine, your doctor may recommend that you receive a second shot," she said.

Vaccines for flu and pneumonia can be given on the same day. The Department of Health will have a flu clinic at Green Ridge House on Friday, November 2, 10:30-11:45 a.m. There will be a flat fee of $3.00 per person, cash only.

People who have a severe sensitivity to eggs should not take the shots. Those with an illness with a fever should wait until they are well.

As a resident was about to enter his truck, around 7:30 a.m. on October 5, in the area of Cherrywood Court and Cherrywood Terrace, two men came up from behind him and robbed him first of his cash and then of his truck (which has since been recovered). The men were believed to have been armed with a handgun.

Robberies and Break-ins

Around 7:45 p.m. on October 9, two men armed with a handgun entered an apartment in the 6100 block of Breezewood Court through an open sliding glass door, while the residents were there. The intruders demanded money, hit one of the residents in the face with the handgun, tied up both residents, and then stole cash and jewelry. The intruders are described thus: (1) dark-skinned black, 40-50 years old, 280 lbs., black hair, wearing blue jeans, a blue shirt, and a white hockey mask; (2) black, 25-35 years old, 220 lbs., black hair, medium build, wearing a maroon sweatshirt.

He also was charged with disturbing the peace.

On Oct. 12 Officer Barry Byers arrested a 13-year-old male in the 6000 block of Springhill Dr. for disorderly conduct. The teenager had been in a fight and was yelling obscenities. He was released to his mother pending trial.

Around 8:30 p.m. on Oct. 14, Pfc. Steven Keller arrested a 26-year-old nonresident male for consuming an alcoholic beverage in public, in this case in the parking lot of the Greenbelt Marriott. way Plaza, threatened the teenagers, robbed one and then fled.

Close to midnight on Oct. 14, an armed robbery was reported at the Twin Movie Theater (Beltway Plaza). Two men locked an employee in a storage room, threatened the manager with a gun, tied the manager up, and then took some money and fled. One of the men is described as a dark-skinned black, in his 20s, 5'7", 160 lbs., and wearing jeans, tennis shoes, a black jacket and a blue baseball hat. The other man is described as a light-skinned black, in his 20s, 5'7", 180 lbs., and wearing jeans, tennis shoes, blue windbreaker, and brown hat.

While a woman was walking in front of Bud's Deep Discount Drug Store around 9:30 on Oct. 13, a man approached her, grabbed her wallet from her hand, and then fled. He is described as black, 35 years old, 5'10", 170 lbs., black hair, slight beard, and wearing a white and blue button down shirt and dark pants.

This season we have six teams: a 13 and under team, an 11 and under team, two 9 and under teams and two 7 and under teams. We almost had a 15 and under team, but most of the kids who registered made the Roosevelt J.V. team. Congratulations to those who made it and the coaches who helped them get there!

The 13 and under team, coached by Rod Gore, has a 1-1-0 record. Their first game was a 3-1 win over College Park. Scott Lubey had a hat trick (scoring all three goals for Greenbelt). Scott Watson, the team goalie, made a great save that helped preserve the victory. Mary Renzi tried several times as a wing to put the ball in the net but College Park's goalie made some tremendous saves. Jason William, as a forward, showed great speed and created openings in the opponents' defense. The sweeper position was held by Jeremy Pritchard who did an admirable job.

In its second game Armando Cremata, Aaron Roth and Jaclyn Hay, all new to the game, played like pros. Jack Inman proved that working hard at practice can really pay off. He has become a real asset to the team. Jason Kenworthy, Steven Reis, James Kent and Tommy Starnes helped keep the score down by controlling the midfield. Lewisdale won 4-1. The Greenbelt players can be proud of their hard work.

The 11 and under team, coached by Andy Hector, sailed right through the spring season without even a scratch. Literally overpowering the entire intermural league. Therefore, this season they were placed, nonetheless, in the higher level county division.

In their season opener they squashed College Park 6-3. T. J. Lubey, Neil Comparetto and Jeff Timer were the scorers of the game and did a phenomenal job keeping the ball down in College Park's defensive end. Additional offensive help came from Pete Campbell, Brendan Cantwell and Jesse O'Reilly. Karim Fadli, Kevin Faherty and David Roth dominated the midfield while Nicholas Moore, Andrew Farris and Eric Stern backed them up as defenders. Fullbacks Antonio Fominaya and Rueben Salgado were mentioned by Andy as having outstanding performances. Goalies Anthony Tran and Brendan Gardes were simply magnificent.

The 9 and under county team is coached by Ken Sanchez. Most of the children on this team have played together since they first learned the game at age 5 from Coach Frank Swahl. The goal for this team is to be proud of their accomplishments, large and small, and to be gracious winners as well as good losers. They act like a team, talk like a team and play like a team. They are the "Dominators": Jonathan Betz, Jason Brooks, Terry Burka, Darren Chang, Ferney Dennis, Jason D'Eramo, Mike Esposito, Sima Fadli, William Fenwick, Keith Loh, Patrick Moore, Matt Pelfrey, Joshua Rashkin, Laura Sanchez, Kenny Sanchez, Marcus Smith, Blair (Evan) White, Billy Wilson.

Nine and under Intermural team is coached by Debbie Day and Tony Fominaya. Their first game was an 0-0 tie against Lanham, which is quite an accomplishment due to Lanham's well known skills. The team had an incredible defensive lineup of Marcella Smid, Charlie Belanger, Jeremiah Voigt and Stephanie Hyde. If the ball did get by the fullbacks, goalies Jon Greer and Matt Schwartz were quick, and stopped every ball. The exceptional efforts of halfbacks Kenny Day, Charity Bates, Ryan Kenworthy, David Wolf, Matt Wilson and Christopher Fominaya kept the ball away from Greenbelt's goal. The offensive line: Andrew Canter, Matt Cullinan, Kevin Skolnik, Jesse Goldberg-Strassler, Paul Schultz, Muiyiwa Oni and John McBride showed great determination and effort against Lanham's solid players.

There are two "Rookie" teams, "Red" and "Blue" in the seven and under group. They are coached by Jane Cosner and Lynn McKee with loads of help from parents.

The Red team played a fine game against a formidable New Carrollton team, coming away with a 3-1 win. Scorers in the game were Jon Smid and Joey Anthony both of whom showed remarkable skill. Conor O'Reilly, Paul Carey and David Compton consistently stole the ball away from New Carrollton. Mike Faherty, Guinevere Granite and Ryan Hyde also played with enthusiasm and gave the old "never say die" attitude now meaning. Several new players show great promise: Nicholas Belanger, James Dodd, Austin Frankel, Alexander Friend-Gomez, Brian Hanley, Daniel Lewis, and Jeremy Weiss.

Hyattsville was completely unprepared to face Greenbelt's Blue team as its first opponent. Nelson DaSilva, Joey Starnes and Dru Baldauf repeatedly scored in this first game of the season and had to be held back for the remainder of the game. T. C. Bates, Nicole Burka, and Lee Carrell get the awards for most improved players. Tommy Schutz and Maybelle DaSilva, er say die" attitude new meaning gave them all and helped the

For their first game ever, Tony Bates, Michael Crawford, Tim Farris, Ben Novick, Joe Pugliese, Robin Brooks, Jason Cunningham and Adam Stern did a wonderful job and proved how quickly they can learn the many rules associated with soccer. The final score was 7-0 in our favor.

Greenbelt Soccer

by Maha Faldi

The 9 and under soccer team, the "Dominators," are having a successful season, having won 3 games and lost 3. Much of the team's success can be attributed to Coach Ken Sanchez, the parents and the team itself.

Coach Ken Sanchez, who brought the group together, has taught them team work and has encouraged them to always do their best.

The parents were supportive by cheering, bringing oranges, filling out surveys, and chaperoning their trips.

Jonathan Betz, Jason Brooks, Terry Burka, Warren Chang, Ferney Dennis, Mike Esposito, Sima Faldi, Keith Loh, Patrick Moore, Matt Pelfrey, Joshua Rashkin, Laura Sanchez, Kenny Sanchez, Marcus Smith, Blair White, and Billy Wilson have all contributed to the team's success, not to mention the goalies, William Fenwick and Jason Deramo.

Recently the group went on a haunted hay ride. A camping trip is planned for November 3. The final gathering will be at the awards ceremony at the end of November.

Purchase of GHI Boiler Room Considered; Garage Rents Rise

by Betty Timer

Increasing garage rents, the purchase of an "old" boiler room, and additions to reserves were major topics of discussion at the October 18 meeting of GHI's Board of Directors.

GHI's Finance Committee submitted two recommendations which were subsequently adopted. The first raised garage rentals 7.8%—the same as the increase in operating costs. Manager Ronald Colton said that the $1.50 increase for all 276 garages would net $4,968. Betty Deitch, board secretary, replied that the garages are still a bargain compared to market rates of $85 or more in nearby areas. The second recommendation increased training funds for board members by $1,000.

GHI members Craig and Sandra Roberts made formal request to buy a boiler room for $1,000 plus assuming the rehab debt of approximately $2,800. Rights to the boiler room would be transferred with an addendum to their mutual ownership contract. The Roberts realize they will be responsible for removing the boiler and installing a floor. Craig Roberts said he intends to use the space for storage, display, and repair of vintage radios and televisions. It was made quite clear by the board that no retail activity was to occur on the premises. A motion approving the boiler room sale passed with a provision that the member living adjacent to the boiler room be given three weeks to submit a proposal for use of that space. That member is considering using the space for neighborhood storage. While not a preferred use, the board stated that it might be approved if seven people were willing to sign 8-year leases and if that homeowner was willing to purchase the boiler room.

Colton made his fourth presentation on the proposed 1991 budget. Nat Shinderman rebuked the board for its failure to provide for additions to reserves for major capital replacement this year and in the proposed budget. After a brief discussion, President Wayne Williams said, "I would like to increase reserves, but I know increased costs would hurt those people who cannot afford it." The board decided a work session was needed to examine this issue.

Items for the next GHI board meeting, November 1 at 8 p.m., include scheduling future work sessions and the board's selection of an auditor for 1991.

Anyone from grade school to senior citizen status is welcome to play in Saturday's Scrabble Tournament at Greenbelt Library, says Barbara Simon, spokeswoman for the sponsoring Friends of the Greenbelt Library (FOGL).

Games will begin at 10:30 a.m. and run until about 3 p.m., with a break for lunch. Players should bring bag lunches, but FOGL will provide beverages. There will be prizes for winners in the under-12, 13-16 and over-17 age groups. Those interested in playing should just come to the library meeting room. For more info, call Simon at 474-2192.

Goblins and Ghouls Come Out in Haunted Forest

by Doug Love

About 200 denizens of Greenbelt explored the Haunted Forest last Saturday night, about the time the wind began wailing like a lost soul through the trees.

This was the third year that the Committee to Save the Green Belt has sponsored a just-for-fun Halloween hike in the newly acquired Great North Woods parkland. But this year was much better than it had ever been before, because the land is now ours, and we didn't need to fear the evil spirits of the developers that had haunted this land. Over 50 pumpkins graced the hay-strewn trail, which meandered from gravesite to dry-ice filled cauldron, past corpses and giant pumpkins, and ended suddenly on Northway. There a Committee member handed out candy.

Before the tours, a considerable amount of hot cider, marshmallows and hot chocolate were distributed, as several citizens, young and old, told stories old and new, funny and scary. A few seniors who didn't like walking the woods in the dark joined the hundreds of kids on the first pre-dark tour, and many that escaped the first time came back for more on the second tour, held just after dark.

Many participants have asked if this can be done again next weekend. Unfortunately, it can't, as all of the pumpkins were given away to deserving survivors, and such a rare gathering of talent and spirits can't be assembled again until next year. It is hoped that the Committee's annual Winter Woods Walk will be as much fun, but not as frightening.

Many people and other sentient beings put in millions of years of tireless effort to make this a unique experience. Paul Downs led out, wearing a shaman's mask of a goat skull he found in the bottom of the Potomac, where it had been hidden by a pre-Neolithic civilization that was totally destroyed by its evil magic. Bob Rashkin and many others looked rather sporty in their Robin Hood caps used in the Labor Day parade. Doug Love looked like a fat farmer in his straw "Gary Larson Explorer" hat. But the really gruesome costumes were worn by several committee members, including a complete witch's costume, a skeleton with glowing eyes, a werewolf, a gorilla, an entirely invisible person that was not seen by very many, and someone with a nylon stocking covering his head and a light just below his mouth.

Bill Rich played himself, the tortured spirit of a Civil War soldier buried in these very woods. He sometimes crouched behind his own grave and chuckled, and at other times stood beside another fearsomely caparisoned creature, imitating one of the straw dummies. This wasn't hard, since he's already dead. One senior citizen remarked to the other creature, "This dummy sure looks real. By the way, I hope my neighbor is all right." Then the "dummy" replied, "We've already got him!" Bill was deeply touched by the first tour giving him a decent Christian burial.

All but one of these ghouls and boogies was a member of the Committee, except for that guy that kept yelling, "Where's my food? Don't let it get away!" He's still out there somewhere. Anyone that doesn't feel like living any more, please go and feed him, so he won't keep us up all night shrieking and hol-

Planning Ahead.

Life today is so fast paced, sometimes it's difficult to find enough time to plan everything out in advance.

That's why we've prepared a special booklet entitled, "Planning Ahead," covering such important subjects as the advantages of planning ahead, the importance of a will, and the purpose of a funeral. There are even sections to organize personal biographical, financial and legal information for your family.

If you would like a complimentary copy of "Planning Ahead," please contact our funeral home or simply return the coupon below.

WHEELCHAIR BASKETBALL PLAYED AT SHL CENTER

This past Monday the Recreation Department sponsored a new program—Wheelchair Basketball. Members of the "Washington Warriors" (wheelchair basketball team) practiced with the experienced and non-experienced alike. The first half hour consisted primarily of drills while the rest of the evening was spent playing the game. Player Wayne Miller led the night, as the team's coach was unable to attend that evening.

On Saturday, October 27 the team will play at Andrews Air Force Base. On Monday, it's back to practice at 7:30 p.m. at the Springhill Lake Center. Everyone is welcome to learn more about the sport or the team, meet the players or just to play. For information, call the Recreation Department at 474-6878.
